Activities during 2004

Visiting the UNO bodies in Geneva, commissions, conferences (Joseph Stiglitz at the UNO on 11th February) and concerts mainly to interact with other NGOs. It is to keep ourselves abreast with the latest happenings at the UN in connection with Human Rights development. We do not make interventions: as we have not the ECOSOC status, we obtain accreditation from other NGOs with ECOSOC status. They ask us not to make interventions.

We prepare several practicable future projects to be realised. These area in connection with educating people on human rights as envisaged in the UN Charter on Human Rights.

January: Prof. K.N .Pandita wrote lessons for instructing human rights to be published on our Internet site www.world-citizenship.org. Because of non obtaining of ECOSOC status in December 2003 we could not receive money from Foundations to prepare our website for this activity. But the goal to instruct these lessons remains intact. We continue preparing them.

February: Geneva chapter arranged accommodation for the office of the Vice President plus the necessary infrastructure including PC, telephone etc.

March: The formal meetings of the Geneva chapter began. Vice President arrived from India to give proper direction to the activities that are on the agenda.

We prepare official letters for the delegates of the ECOSOC NGO Committee New York to explain our case

We, the Geneva Office, become also member of WANGO, the World Association of NGOs, just as our headquarter in Delhi is its member.

April: During this time the Geneva staff signed the papers to open a bank account in the name of our Geneva office, to register on the 'chambre de commerce / the economic office) and other signed other formal documents to make our Geneva office an official institution.

During the Human Rights Commission the Geneva staff assisted a panel conference (organised by Centre of South Asian Studies, Geneva, in collaboration with another Foundation) in the Hotel Warwick. Vice President made a presentation.

During this Human Rights Commission our NGO's General Secretary give a 45-minute interview to radio Freely Speaking. It was about human rights activities of our organization in Central Asian region...

May: Our European Chapter President, Sophie attended ECOSOC Committee NGO Committee meeting in New York. She stayed there for five days. During this time we sent her by mail many papers about our NGO (the headquarter in Delhi and the Geneva office) in order to respond to the questions raised in the meeting.
